To our valued guests,

You may notice a few of your favorite items missing from our menu; we have always taken pride in serving you fresh, scratch-made food without compromising quality. Unfortunately the combination of limited staff, increased supply chain shortages, and high food costs have limited what we are able to offer at this time. We hope you understand and bear with us while we push forward to provide you with the quality of food and service you've grown to love and expect from us. We are working diligently to get return to a full menu, but ask that you be patient with us at this time. If you have any questions or would like to speak with a manager please don't hesitate to ask. As always, thank you for supporting our small family business!
